

HOLLAND PRAYS FOR HER QUEEN

She Is Reported To Be Much Worse And Is Sinking.

LOSS OF HER CHILD

Wilhelmina Pronounced To Be In Most Imminent Danger of Death.

TALK OF SUCCESSION

London, Nov. 19.—All Holland is praying for the recovery of Queen Wilhelmina. She is reported to be sinking and her condition is a matter of great public alarm. According to telegrams received here the young queen is much worse.

The people of the Netherlands idolize their beautiful ruler and news of her condition is bulletined all over the country. The loss of her child, while saddening, has become a matter of secondary concern, and all hopes are centered in the recovery of the queen.

Reports from the bedside confirm the gravity of the rumors that flashed over Holland. Nothing is being left undone that could possibly aid in her restoration to health.

Eminent physicians are constantly at the bedside.

Despite all that is being done, the conviction exists, and is spreading, that the life of the girl queen is in imminent danger. It is likely that unless more favorable bulletins are issued today that tomorrow will be a universal day of prayer among the Dutch people.

Already there has been talk of the succession in the event that Queen Wilhelmina dies. The Grand Duke of Saxe-Weimar, the queen's second cousin, is heir to the throne.

REFORM LEAGUERS MEET AT MADISON

The Rev. W. F. Crafts Addresses Convention on Curfew Question and Sunday Rest.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 19.—The first meeting of the joint convention of the Wisconsin Federation of Reformers, representing nine state denominational bodies and five state reform associations and the Wisconsin Sunday Rest association and the Wisconsin Anti-Saloon league, was held in the assembly of the capitol building last evening and though only about half of the delegates have arrived there was a large attendance. It is expected that as many more delegates will arrive today in time for the business session.

The address of the evening was by the Rev. W. F. Crafts, superintendent of the reform bureau and the author of the original curfew law, who spoke on the "Sabbath in the Twentieth Century City." In opening he dwelt for a short time on the curfew question. On the question of Sunday rest Mr. Crafts used the arguments of science as well as the Bible and illustrated his talk with charts made by German scientists.

A business session of the Wisconsin Anti-Saloon league and the Wisconsin Sunday Rest association will be held, at which the reports of the officers will be read. A meeting of the executive committee of the Sunday Rest association has also been arranged for 8:30 o'clock in the morning. This afternoon the second joint session of the convention will be held and addresses made by the Revs. Geo. R. Leavitt of Beloit and others.

Edward to Visit Ireland
Dublin, Nov. 19.—The Irish Times says the king and queen will visit Ireland in the spring.

Dense Fog in Chicago
Chicago, Nov. 19.—Many collisions on the elevated and surface lines resulting in one death, probably fatal; injury to two and lesser injuries to over a score were caused by the dense fog this morning.

NORTHWESTERN STATES TO UNITE TO OPPOSE BIG RAILWAY COMBINE

Echo of Gov. Vasant's Attack on the Great Northern Alliance Heard on Pacific Coast.

Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 19.—There is a fair probability that the legislatures of the entire northern tier of states from Lake Superior to Puget Sound will be called into special session at the same time for the single purpose of defeating the plan to bring the Northern Pacific and Great Northern railways under one management.

Governor Rogers has been urged yesterday and today by leading residents of Spokane, Tacoma and Seattle to call the Washington legislature into special session for the purpose mentioned. He has as yet given no definite reply, but does not deny that he has the matter under consideration. He says he believes that capital should be thoroughly protected, but that there is injury to public interests in the proposed consolidation.

St. Paul, Nov. 19.—"If we can prevent this combination it is our duty to do so. Now is the time to strike before the securities are put upon the market. As soon as the attorney general returns home I shall confer with him. The present laws may suffice, but if not I shall call the legislature together for the purpose of enacting legislation that will put the railroads of Minnesota under control."

Governor S. R. Van Sant made the foregoing statement today concerning his opposition to the Northern Securities company and the consolidation of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern railroads.

It is the general opinion among officials at the capitol an extra session of the legislature will be held next winter for the purpose of taking up new railroad laws. Leading members of the legislature have telegraphed the governor their approval of his course.

JOICE IS MAKING A VIGOROUS FIGHT

Ex-Cashier of the Defunct Stoughton Bank Has Brought Habeas Corpus Proceedings.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 19.—(Special)—J. H. Joice, ex-cashier of the defunct Stoughton bank, who was arrested in Chicago on the charge of embezzling about $42,000, is fighting his case from the start, through habeas corpus proceedings, and Sheriff Burmeister went to Chicago today to look after the case, which comes up there today. A requisition was secured last week after Joice's arrest, but when the sheriff returned to Chicago from Springfield, where he went to have the requisition honored by Governor Yates, he found that Joice had already secured an attorney and sued out a writ of habeas corpus.

THIS IS THE TIME TO BE A HORSE

New York Horse Show Opens with a Brilliant Display—The Nights Are for Society.

New York, Nov. 19.—New York's seventeenth annual horse show is on. Madison Square Garden is filled with hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of horses and above is draped with bunting in orange and black. Between is the show, and until next Saturday night the garden will be a place of enthusiasm and expediency.

This is the time to be a horse, and the horses seem to know it. With heads high and nostrils distended, straight-limbed, and with pride in every curve of their handsome bodies they dashed in and out at the bugle's call.

The day is for horse lovers and the night is society's. At all times now the garden will be a place of prancing horses, of beautiful women, of enthusiastic men, of fine feathers and blankets, of straw and grooms, of numbers, traps, tanbark and hurdles, harness and saddles, to say nothing of boxes and the promenade crowded with fashion.

Woman Escapes Prison
Columbus, O., Nov. 19.—Lizzie Ruthven, a colored convict sealed the wall of the female department in the penitentiary last night and made her escape. She is the first woman to escape from the Ohio penitentiary.

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 19.—The may of this morning arrived at the conclusion that he saw no reason for refusing a license for the McGovern-Corbett fight Thanksgiving day.

THREESKATERS SINK

Young Woman Goes Through the Ice at Rib Lake—Two Tomahawk Boys Meet 'Death.'

Rib Lake, Wis., Nov. 19.—Mahala Albaugh was drowned in Rib Lake Sunday while skating. Louis Olson went through the ice with her and was rescued with difficulty. The body was rescued at 5 o'clock. The drowned girl was 22 years of age. Her home is in Brownsville, Minn., and her parents were notified by wire.

Tomahawk, Wis., Nov. 19.—Two boys, sons of A. Scheffner of this city, were drowned in the Wisconsin river here yesterday morning. The lads were 13 and 15 years of age. They broke through the ice while skating. The bodies have been recovered.

ENGLAND PAYS AMERICAN CLAIMS

Settlement of Claims of the People Deported from South Africa During Boer War.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 19.—Henry White, secretary of the United States embassy at London, has received a draft of $30,000 from the British government in payment of the claims of American citizens who were deported from South Africa since the opening of the Boer war. The settlement is considered by the state department a very satisfactory one.

Charles W. Putnam went to Chicago this morning on business.

INDIANS MAY SLAY DEER HUNTERS; DANGER IN EAGLE RIVER DISTRICT

Disappearance of an Indian Buck is Charged to the White Hunters Who Are Leaving That Section of the State with Great Haste.

Marinette, Wis., Nov. 19.—The Indians located on the headwaters of the Eagle river in the northern wilds of Marinette county are stirred up over the disappearance of Wambago, and they charge his disappearance to the white hunters in that locality. They say that he was shot by a white man who mistook him for a deer. Charles Kerheha, a friendly Indian called at the camp of the Peshtigo lumber company yesterday and warned the men in the camp that his people would certainly avenge the deed if the dead body of their missing brother was found. A hundred bucks are now out scouting the woods in that locality.

The Eagle river is one of the best deer-hunting districts in Wisconsin, and there are many hunters there now.

COAL MINERS ARE ON THE RAMPAGE

A Body of 800 from the Indiana Fields on Way to Vincennes to Call Strike.

Washington, Ind., Nov. 19.—A body of over 800 miners left this city and vicinity, gathered from Petersburg, Linton, Montgomery and other neighboring towns and are now marching to Vincennes. They will reach there some time today and will begin a campaign among the miners in Knox county field with the end in view of bringing out the non-union men working in the Prospect Hill mines near that city.

Along the line of march the most intense excitement prevails but thus far the miners have conducted themselves orderly and quietly. Some of them are said to be armed and rumors are afloat that an effort will be made by the Knox county authorities to prevent these from entering the coal district. The miners, however, assert that all trouble will be avoided.

KNOTTY PROBLEMS TO BE DISCUSSED

Convention of American Manufacturers Open at Washington Today—Reciprocity Their Theme.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 19.—There are more than 200 manufacturers from all sections of the country in attendance upon the reciprocity convention, which opened here at 11 o'clock this morning. Theodore Search, of Philadelphia, president of the National Manufacturers' association, under whose auspices the convention was called, said today that a full list of the delegates had not yet been made. The delegates came from most of the states, and represent nearly every branch of the manufacturing industry. A special committee of delegates will arrange a program for the conduct of business in the convention.

While it is expected that the subject of ways and means for reciprocity with the Latin-American countries will come up for consideration tomorrow, it is possible that there may be changes in the program which will bring up earlier the general reciprocity with European countries.

The manufacturers arriving here today are already apprised of the fact that almost any proposition for reciprocity that may be advanced will meet with serious opposition from members representing both parties on the committees of ways and means of the house and finance of the senate. The subject is so technical and complicated, and susceptible of far-reaching influence, that congressional legislators are unwilling to commit themselves upon any branch of it, except as to concessions upon non-competing products.

Brings Emperor's Greetings.
Washington, Nov. 19.—Baron von Hengelmüller, the ambassador from Austria-Hungary to the United States, who has just returned from a vacation of several months spent at Vienna, called upon President Roosevelt. He was received in the blue parlor. The ambassador was charged with conveying to the president Emperor Franz Joseph's best wishes for the success of his administration and the prosperity of his country.

Fire in Boston Subway.
Boston, Nov. 19.—A third rail fire in the subway late in the afternoon caused great excitement. Several women were badly bruised. The guards of the elevated locked the doors and would let no one out. Women were terrified by the blinding smoke and tried to jump through the car windows, but were restrained.

Pope's Death Is Feared.
Rome, Nov. 19.—In spite of persistent and apparently well-founded denials that there is any imminent danger of the Pope's death, the air is full of speculation and apprehension, indicating that his end is considered not far off.

New York, Nov. 19.—The officers of the McKee Co., discretionary brokers, closed today, but the members of the firm cannot be found. The exact amount secured from customers is not known but it is believed to be large.

Bluefield, W. Va., Nov. 19.—The bodies of two more victims of the mine disaster have been recovered. Several others are still in the mine.

William Taylor, of Breadhead, was in the city yesterday and today attending to some business matters.

GUESTS AT WEDDING GIVEN SMALLPOX

Seventeen Persons Contract the Disease When They Go to a Minnesota Marriage.

LaCrosse, Wis., Nov. 19.—Seventeen cases of small-pox have developed in the township of New Hartford, Minn., just across the river from this city. The disease in every case was contracted at the wedding of John Kierner and Miss Lizzie Eaton two weeks ago. Since that time nearly everybody who was in attendance at the wedding has been taken down with the disease. One of the guests was just recovering from the disease, thinking that he had fully recovered. The whole township is practically quarantined as hundreds have been exposed.

THREE CHILDREN LOSE THEIR LIVES

Farm House Near Antigo, Wis., Burns Down and Babies Are Burned to Death.

Antigo, Wis., Nov. 19.—The farmhouse of John Sewitzke, in the town of Laglade, twenty-four miles from here, was destroyed by fire Sunday at 5 p. m. Three children ranging from three months to five years, lost their lives, and their bodies were almost entirely consumed. The mother had gone a quarter of a mile away for water and before she returned the house was in ruins. Nothing remains to tell how the fire originated.

RESCUED FROM A WATERY GRAVE

Sailors Cling to Ice-Bound Rigging of Wrecked Ship Thirty-Six Hours Without Clothing.

St. Johns, N. F., Nov. 19.—The rescue of the crew who clung to the rigging of the wrecked bark Titania, near Cape Race, was effected with the greatest difficulty.

During the thirty-six hours of Saturday and Sunday which they were lashed to the ship's rigging they were absolutely without clothing excepting their shirts and drawers.

Three men from the shore succeeded at the risk of their lives, in aiding the shipwrecked men to land. Boat-swain Williams, who was drowned, became impatient at the delay in reaching the shore, and, driven by his suffering, plunged into the sea and tried to swim to land. His lifeless body was thrown high against the cliffs.

POPE LEO'S DEATH MAY BE VERY NEAR

Roman Pontiff Believed to Be in Critical Condition Despite Denials from the Vatican.

Rome, Nov. 19.—In spite of persistent and apparently well founded denials that there is any imminent danger of the Pope's demise the air is full of speculation and apprehension indicating that his end is not considered far off.

Rumors of intrigue and slate making, which it is impossible to keep from the outside world, exude from every crevice of the jealously guarded inner precincts of the Vatican.

The Pope's closest personal attendants include his faithful valet, Centro, one chaplain and one minor prelate, who constantly and tenderly guard his material comfort. His meals are served in his private apartments at a small table, at which none other, even a crowned head may sit down. No feminine hand may tend or soothe the august invalid.

ARRANGE A BIG FOOTBALL GAME

Proposition to Have Wisconsin Play Michigan in Chicago on Thanksgiving Day.

Butte, Mont., Nov. 19.—Twenty-five Japanese laborers were killed by a collision on the Northern Pacific, near Blair, in the eastern part of the state. Four others were seriously injured. The accident occurred on a curve in the road. The east-bound extra freight train, running twenty-five miles an hour, met the work train, the two crashing together full head. Conductor Krause of the work train was the only white man injured. He was thrown from the train and badly bruised.

METEOR SHOWER IS LOST IN SPACE; LEONIDS FLY FROM EARTH'S ORBIT

Such a Brilliant Display as Was Seen in 1833 Will Probably Never Be Witnessed Again.

Williams Bay, Wis., Nov. 19.—Prof. Bernard, who was absent in a lecture tour in Illinois at the time the Leonid meteors were seen and witnessed them from a door yard in Wheaton, states that it is not probable that such a display as was seen in 1833 will ever be witnessed again. It is now pretty thoroughly settled by scientists that the meteors swarm was deflected from its course by the planet Jupiter, and at this period only the outlying portions touched the earth's orbit, while in 1833 and 1836 the earth passed through dense portions of the mass.

It is possible that at some future time the swarm will be attracted back so that it will again intersect the orbit of the earth, but it is not probable that this will occur by the time of the next visit of the Leonids. It is also not impossible that some other swarm of meteors, about which scientists now know nothing, may be attracted across the earth's orbit, but this is also improbable.

The Leonid meteors comprise a mass, very dense in the central portion, but more few and scattering nearer the outer portions. This mass is some thousands of miles in diameter, and several millions of miles in length, so that it requires five or six years for it to pass the point where it touches the earth's orbit, though moving at the rate of twenty-six miles a minute. The greatest display of the present period was seen by Professor Barnard in 1838. The number seen has been decreasing ever since.

GOLD EXPORT RECORD BROKEN

Shipment of $7,082,581 Made from New York to Europe Today.

BERLIN AND PARIS

It is the Largest Amount Ever Sent Over in a Single Vessel.

IN THE FORM OF BARS

New York, Nov. 19.—A new high record for gold engagements to Europe from this port was established yesterday when gold to the amount of $7,082,581 was taken from the assay office for shipment on the steamship Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, which leaves today. The gold was ordered in the regular course of business, and, according to report, all but $1,000,000, which goes to Berlin, will be sent to Paris, the steamship dropping the greater part at Cherbourg.

The shipments were made possible by the high rate of exchange, and it was figured today that unless a rapid change of rates occurs fully $25,000,000 more will follow.

The shippers and the amounts follow: Lazard Freres, $2,568,019; Heidelberg, Ickelheimer & Co., $1,506,766; National City bank, $1,243,525; Goldman, Sachs & Co., $1,005,531; Barling, Magoun & Co., for account of Kidder, Peabody & Co., of Boston, $758,050.

The departure of this big amount of yellow metal marks a change of attitude on the part of marine underwriters in this country. For a long time, even with the modern and safe ocean-going vessels, it was the custom of underwriting companies not to risk more than about $4,000,000 in any one "bottom."

All of the gold going out today will be in the form of gold bars. The packing of this vast amount of gold was done at the assay office today and was not completed until a late hour. The $1,000,000 gold to Germany (two-thirds of the shipment of Heidelberg, Ickelheimer & Co.) was packed in oblong boxes. The remainder was put into brand new oak kegs, which were strongly bound with iron hoops and carefully sealed top and bottom.

To offset the heavy gold exports there were unusually large tenders of government bonds for redemption at the subtreasury. One house turned in $1,685,000 of the 4s of 1825, for which $2,348,621 was paid out, and other payments for bonds were made the total being in excess of $2,500,000. The Bank of Montreal has received $1,000,000 gold from Australia.

An explanation of the unusual engagements of the day is found in the fact that today's German steamer is a very fast boat, which means a saving of interest, a very important matter in gold exports. Thursday's French steamer is an old vessel and much slower than Tuesday's German steamer.

The German shipment attracted attention because most bankers do not see a profit in sending gold to Berlin at present. Some time ago, when exchange was far below current prices, $250,000 in gold was sent to Germany on a special transaction, therefore the current shipment may be regarded as practically the first one of the season to that country.

The News From County Towns.

MILTON.

THE GAZETTE AGENCY.
W. W. CLARK, Manager.

Milton, Nov. 19.—This station has been made a coupon office of the Milwaukee road and persons can now buy tickets here for all points, east, west, north and south, and over any line of railroad. Baggage will be checked to all places and there will be no necessity for patrons visiting Milton Junction to secure tickets for eastern or western connections as heretofore. This is an accommodation on the part of the Milwaukee road that our citizens should appreciate and give evidence of their appreciation by purchasing tickets here.

Asa Prentice of North Loup, Neb., is in town. That burgh will soon be depopulated we judge.

The equalization committee of the county board found that an error of $700,000 had been made in Milton's valuation and cut it down to $200,000. That helps a little but $500,000 would have been a just reduction.

The tenth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. T. I. Place occurred on Sunday, Nov. 17, and on Saturday evening prior to that date about forty of their friends surprised them by appearing at their rooms to assist in commemorating. In addition to the tin utensils appropriate to the occasion the visitors brought with them the materials for an oyster supper. After the lunch had been served the guests were entertained with selections from a concert gramophone. It was a very pleasant social event.

The music students of the College will give a concert for the benefit of the library fund next Tuesday evening, November 26. Program: Mandolin club, "The Creole Queen," R. B. Bond, E. E. Bond, leader; Contralto Song, selected, A. Leona Davidson; Piano Duet, "Norma" by V. Bellini; L. N. Coon, K. M. Bliss. Ladies' church quartet, "The Shades of Night," Arranged by W. O. Perkins from Perling; L. N. Coon, Alice Clarke, Ella Babcock, Mrs. Metta P. Babcock. Soprano song, "Sunshine and Rain," by Blumenthal; Clara Clement. Pianoforte solo, "A Bird of the Air," Wollenhaupt; Harriet Brown. Soprano song, "Sogno d'Amor," L. Greg; Esther Townsend. Trio, "Under the Double Eagle March," Wagner; piano, M. Lenora Johnson; cornet, J. W. Johnson; Male chorus, "March of the Guard," Adam Gelbel, first tenor, G. A. Seeger; E. D. VanHorn; second tenor, W. S. Wells, Guy Polan; first bass, P. B. Hurley, L. A. Platts, Jr.; second bass, A. E. Whitford, R. W. Clark. Part II—Greene's orchestra, selected. Mezzo-soprano song, "Fiona," Stephen Adams; Emma E. Anderson. Violin solo, selected, O. H. Greene. Male quartet, "A College Medley," arranged, E. D. VanHorn, J. E. Hutchins, L. A. Platts, Jr., A. E. Whitford, Cornet solo, "The Holy City," Stephen Adams; E. E. Bond. Soprano song, "Entreaty," by Wilson G. Smith and "A Dream" by J. C. Bartlett; L. N. Coon. Pianoforte solo, "Caprice," J. N. Blumenthal; Esther Townsend. Bass song, selected, A. E. Whitford, Mandolin club, "Calanthe Waltzes," Abe Holzmahn; E. E. Bond, leader.

"Uncle" Ben Miller, of Rhineland.

Nothing

Tastes Good

And eating is simply perfunctory—done because it must be.

This is the common complaint of the dyspeptic.

If eating sparingly would cure dyspepsia, few would suffer from it long.

The only way to cure dyspepsia, which is difficult digestion, is to give vigor and tone to the stomach and the whole digestive system.

Hood's Sarsaparilla cured the niece of Frank Fay, 190 N. St., South Boston, Mass., who writes that she had been a great sufferer from dyspepsia for six years; had been without appetite and had been troubled with sour stomach and headache. She had tried many other medicines in vain. Two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla made her well.

CAUSE OF DEAFNESS

The Most Common Cause Only Recently Discovered

It has been stated on good medical authority that nine-tenths of the cases of deafness are caused from catarrh of the middle ear.

The little tube which leads to the ear from the throat is lined with a sort of velvety structure called the mucous membrane. This membrane is simply a continuation of the mucous membrane lining the throat. When disease of any sort attacks the mucous membrane of the throat it is very liable to extend into the Eustachian tube and up into the ear.

The history of nearly all cases of deafness is like this: A cold is contracted and neglected, other colds are taken, the throat becomes sore and inflamed, which is aggravated by particles of dust and germs from the air. This condition causes the disease to spread into the tube that leads to the ear.

It seems a little far fetched to say that most cases of deafness are caused from catarrh, but it is certainly true, and anyone who has had a severe catarrhal cold must have noticed how the hearing was affected while the cold lasted.

With catarrh sufferers this impairment of hearing becomes chronic and grows worse the longer the catarrh is neglected.

You can cure catarrh and deafness by the regular use of an excellent new preparation called Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, composed of antiseptic remedies which act both on the mucous membranes but principally and most effectively on the blood, eliminating the catarrhal poison from the system.

People whose hearing is defective may think it a little remarkable that a simple and harmless tablet would very often remove all traces of deafness, but when it is remembered that catarrh causes the deafness and that the catarrh is easily cured by the regular use of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets there is no mystery about it.

If you are subject to nasal catarrh or catarrh of throat, bronchial tubes or catarrh of stomach and liver, the safest and most effective treatment is the new catarrh specific, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, sold by all druggists at 50 cents for full sized package.

Promotion for H. C. Willits

H. C. Willits, formerly manager in this city for the Bell Telephone Co., has been engaged as manager by the Rock County Telephone company in place of A. E. Adams, who has resigned his position. Mr. Willits is a practical telephone man and has had charge of some important offices for the Bell company since leaving this city several years ago. Mr. Adams has made many friends in this city since taking up his residence here who will regret to see him leave. He has not fully decided yet where he will locate.

IRISHMEN SEE PRESIDENT.

Redmond and Party Given a Special Audience by Roosevelt.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 19.—The Irish Parliamentary leaders who are touring this country agitating the Irish cause were given a special audience by President Roosevelt. The party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Redmond, P. A. McHugh, Thomas O'Donnell, Miss Dalton of Australia, a sister of Mrs. Redmond, and Mr. and Mrs. St. John Gaffney of New York. The President received them with cordiality in the reception-room adjoining the Cabinet-room. He astonished his visitors by the intimate knowledge of the Irish situation which he displayed. After greetings had been exchanged on both sides and the President and Mr. Redmond had held a brief private conversation, aside from the others, the President requested the party to go into the red parlor down stairs, in order that he might present Mrs. Roosevelt. This was done and ten minutes were spent in the red parlor.

MISS WILKINS STILL SINGLE.

Neighbors in Randolph, Mass., Say Report of Marriage Was Premature.

Randolph, Mass., Nov. 19.—Wise people of Randolph, who are on nodding terms with Miss Wilkins, the novelist, say the announcement of her marriage to Dr. Freeman was premature. It is still a future event.

Miss Wilkins left on Wednesday last for New York city and Metuchen, N. J., where preparations are being made for the occupancy of her new home. She returned on Saturday, and is still at the Wales mansion on South Main street.

Miss Wilkins' friends say, however, that the day for the marriage is not far distant.

It is said that Dr. Freeman will be a guest of Miss Wilkins on Thanksgiving day, and probably will remain in Randolph for a few days, and it is asserted on apparently good authority that the wedding will take place in Randolph before Christmas.

DUTCH ATTACK BRITISH SHIP.

Holland Fishermen Board Smack and Shoot for Boats.

London, Nov. 19.—An extraordinary demonstration of pro-Britishism is reported by a Brussels newspaper. It seems that a Dutch fishing boat belonging to Ymuiden, while off Wellington lightship in the North sea, pretended to be in distress and approached a British smack. Thirteen fishermen from the Dutch boat boarded the British craft and attacked the crew of the latter, shouting: "Long live the Boers." Several of the Britishers were wounded. It is alleged that before making the attack the Dutchmen locked their captain in his cabin. The British smack succeeded in escaping and arrived at Ostend, where the captain lodged a complaint with the British consul.

FOR SUNDAY EVENING PLAYS.

Proacher Says Saturday Night Pleasures Are Overdone.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 19.—In a sermon delivered in the Protestant Episcopal church in Germantown yesterday morning the Rev. Henry R. Gummey said: "The religious observance of Sunday is seriously interfered with by the popular custom of devoting Saturday night to pleasures. In view of this fact it would almost be better to have the theaters opened on Sunday evenings rather than on Saturdays." Mr. Gummey proposes to hold Saturday evening services in his church.

FISHERIES WAR IN LAKE

Michigan Game Warden Goes Out and Captures Tugs.

CARRIES GUNS AND HATCHET.

On Board the St. Joe Boat Dormas He Runs Down and Runs Smaller Vessel of Fishing Fleet—Two Other Tug-Captures.

St. Joseph, Mich., Nov. 19.—Deputy Game Warden Brewster, on board a heavy tugboat, armed with a belt full of revolvers and a hatchet, has started a fisheries dispute between Michigan and Indiana by ramming one fishing tug and capturing two others out of a fleet of six. The Michigan game warden asserts that the tugs were fishing in Michigan waters contrary to law, which sets the beginning of the open season on Dec. 15. The fishermen claim that they were inside the Indiana line, where there is no closed season law. The merits of the cases will in due time come up in the courts. The chase and capture of the three tugs and the escape of three others was attended by several exciting incidents. Deputy Game Warden Brewster had hired the big tug Dormas of this port and, heavily armed, went out in search of the fishermen who had been reported in Michigan waters.

Six Tugs Are Pursued.
Six tugs were chased by the big boat with the game warden and his deputies aboard. Some of the tugs were captured, while others escaped, one making in the direction of Milwaukee. Brewster left Menominee Monday morning with the big tug to begin a raid on the fishermen. He sighted the tugs about noon and the chase began. The six tugs—three of Booth's Michigan City fleet and the Frank Edwards, Sir Arthur, and Ferry of this port—sighted the game warden's boat and immediately dropped their nets, cut the lines, and skittered for shelter. After an hour's chase the Frank Edwards was overtaken. When the big game warden's tug overtook the Frank Edwards it was under a full head of steam and rammed the smaller tug violently in the stern, smashing several stanchions and guard rail. The little boat put on a full head of steam and attempted to escape. The Dormas again took up the pursuit and succeeded in heading the smaller craft off. Again the Dormas rammed the Edwards, this time on the port bow, and the smaller tug careened violently and was in danger of capsizing.

Warden Looks Like Pirate.
Game Warden Brewster appeared on the deck, armed as described, and commanded the surrender of the boat. Captain Nollhagen surrendered the Frank Edwards and it was boarded and searched. All of the nets and fish were removed, including sixteen nets and 1,000 pounds of lake herring. The tug was then ordered to proceed to St. Joe. By this time the powerful tug Sir Arthur of this port had disappeared on the Milwaukee course, and it was impossible for the game warden to overtake it. The next tug overhauled, after a lively chase, was the Bertha Cockle, one of the three tugs owned by the Booth Packing company. In this case, owing to want of room on the big tug, nets were not seized, but the Cockle was ordered to proceed to St. Joe, which it did. The tug Ferry of this port was next overhauled, and immediately surrendered and was ordered to proceed to this port at once. The two remaining Booth tugs made their escape, one going to Michigan City and the other heading for Chicago.

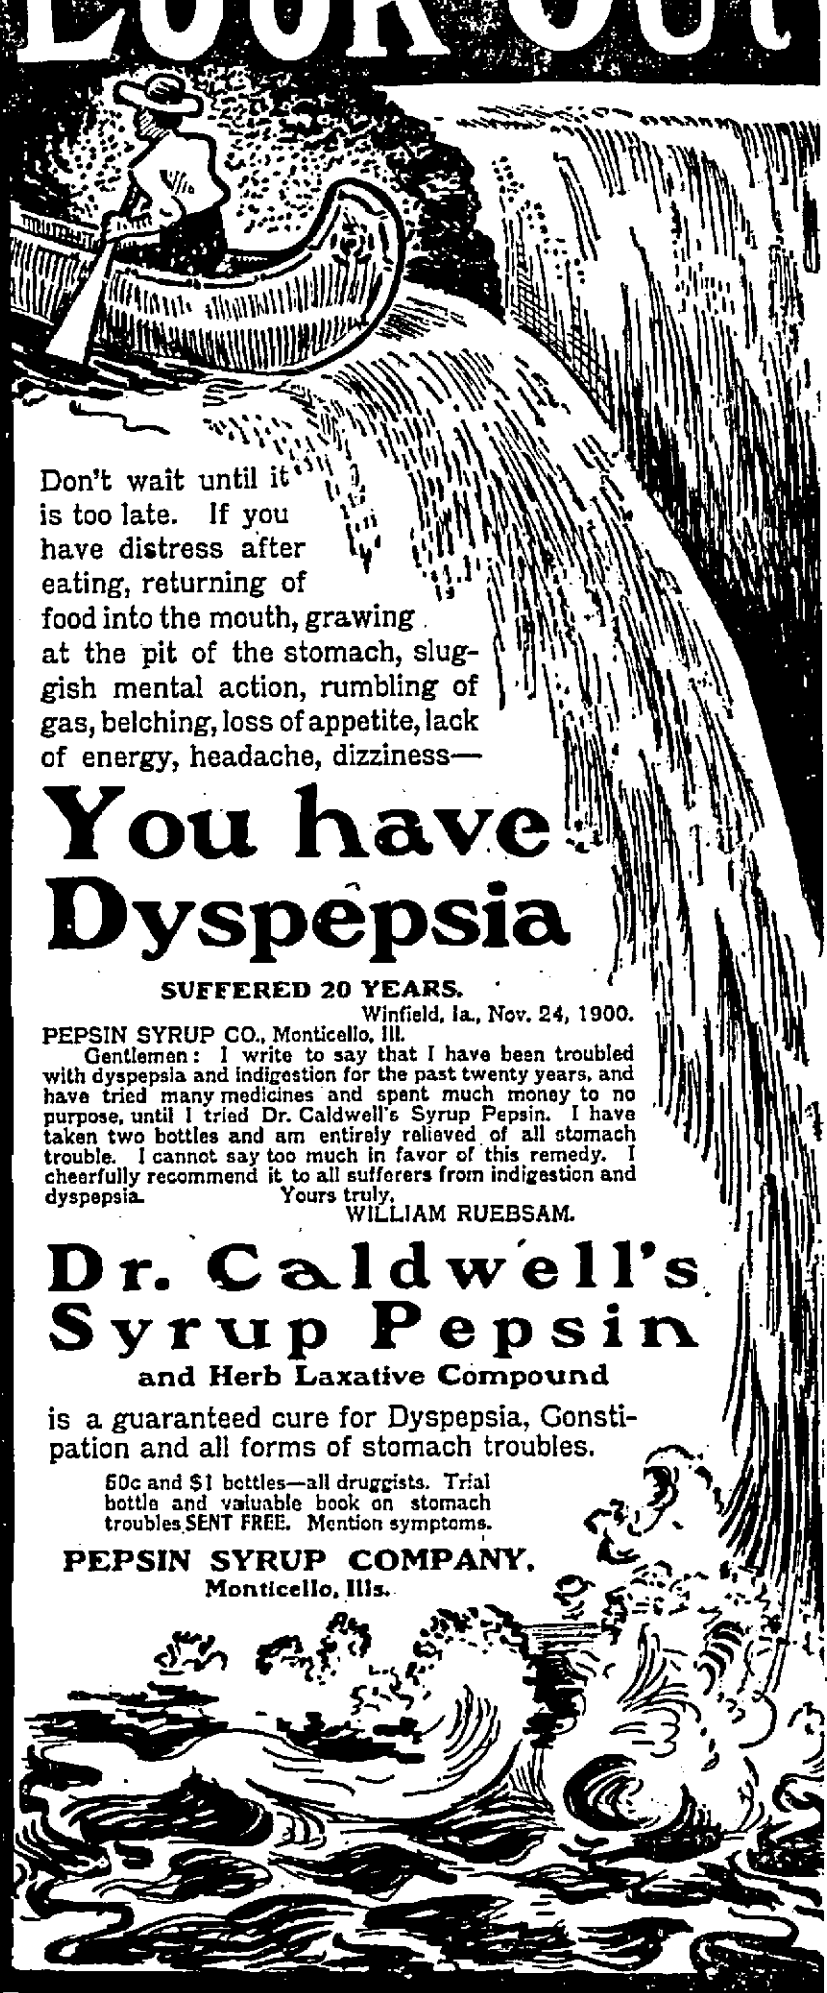

Flight of Long Standing.
It has been charged that for many years tugs have broken the rules and have returned to their own fishing grounds several miles south of this port. Captain Verden of the tug Dormas says according to charts in his possession the tugs were fishing fifteen miles this side of the Indiana line in Michigan waters. Vessel owners here are indignant with Brewster's action in ramming the tug and say that they would have returned the attack.

Henry Brown's Love Letters.
New York, Nov. 19.—A too facile pen in the writing of love letters has earned for Henry Brown a place in the insane pavilion at Bellevue hospital. Brown, who is a good-looking young fellow, is now awaiting examination as to his sanity. He was arrested on the complaint of Miss Minnie Denzinger of 324 East One Hundred and Sixteenth street, who charged that she had been annoyed by the love missives dashed off by the pen of Brown. The testimony brought out the fact that Brown had sent her girl 1,800 letters in five weeks—an average of over fifty a day.

Many Women Win Offices.
Denver, Col., Nov. 19.—Women were elected to county offices in twenty-five counties of Colorado at the recent election. Twenty-two of them were chosen as superintendents of schools and they were in nearly every case opposed by women candidates of other parties. In two counties women were elected county clerks and in San Juan county a woman was given the responsible office of treasurer.

Killed for Deer, Friend Drops Dead.
Chippewa Falls, Wis., Nov. 19.—William Kampf of this city, while hunting near Boyd, this county, mistook William Shaffer, another hunter, for a deer and shot him. In the party was James White, an aged man. When he viewed the corpse lying on the ground he dropped dead. Kampf came to Chippewa Falls and gave himself up.

THE CONTROL OF TRUSTS

No more fertile field for theorists and writers on political economy exists today, than the much discussed question of trusts. Professor John B. Clark, of the Columbia University, has recently published a little book entitled "The Control of Trusts," in which he attempts to solve the question.

Prof. Clark has discovered that cut rates by railroads is an evil that can only be remedied by encouraging pools. That railroads will not discriminate in favor of shippers, when tied up by contracts with competing lines. In other words he would make the combination so strong that self-interest would prevent its being broken. He says:

"Of course, in theory such free competition actually exists at present, but in practice the trusts have invented devices that make the conditions of competition exceedingly unfair. Of these devices the most important are (1) discriminating railway charges and secret rebates, (2) factors' agreements by which the trust gives special rates to merchants who undertake to buy nothing from other manufacturers, (3) local cutting of prices, whereby the trust sells its goods below cost in the territory supplied by an independent producer until he has been driven from the field, while maintaining remunerative rates elsewhere, and (4) cutting the price of some one variety of goods made by a rival while selling other varieties at high prices."

He would regulate by law any monopoly organized to drive out competition.

It would be well for Professor Clark and his colleagues who write so airily on economic questions, if they would don a business suit and tackle business for a few years in the busy haunts of trade. Not as clerks, or employees, dependent on some practical brain for a position, but as independent business men, thrown up on their own resources.

They would soon discover that steam-heated and college envied theories are all right for text books, but not well-adapted to the cold outside world, where the only law that governs, in every department of toll, is the survival of the fittest.

The business world is an honest world, but supremely selfish. The rivalry for success is sharp and decisive. Ambition prompts the manager of large corporations, as well as the individual representative, to exhaust every legitimate effort to win. This ambition while commendable, is sometimes abused, but no law has ever been established that will curb it or regulate it to any great extent.

A labor union says to its members you may teach a limited number of boys a trade, or you may do a certain amount of labor for a day's work. The edict is iron-clad and observed to the letter. It is established in the interests of monopoly, and right or wrong, no time is wasted in theorizing. Business adjusts itself to labor conditions and the world moves on.

What is true in the labor world is equally true in every other department. A railroad company is interested in building up the shipping interests along its line. It encourages factory building by delivering material for the plant at a nominal price, and then gives the shipper a rate that will enable him to meet competition in his particular line. It may be a lower rate than the merchant receives, but the man ships car loads where the merchant ships boxes. He is a wholesale shipper and entitled to a wholesale rate, and there is no law that can or should regulate.

A department store with a dozen lines of goods and a wide-awake manager enters a town and bids for trade in competition with a dozen merchants. If he is a good bidder he succeeds, because he is usually a heavy cash buyer, possessing the faculty of making people believe that he has bargains, whether he has or not. A liberal sprinkling of his customers are usually among the class that complain the most about cruel competition.

Professor Clark and Prof. Ely and writers of this class, may theorize until they are bald-headed, about the injustice of trusts and monopolies. The business world is the only practical regulator that has yet been discovered.

The business of the courts is to decide many questions of law, both criminal and moral but the business world is neither criminal or immoral and is only amendable to the court of public opinion.

IN SELF DEFENSE

It is currently reported that Governor La Follette is contemplating a tour of the state in which he proposes to visit every nook and corner, for the purpose of coming in personal contact with the people, and setting himself right on questions that have caused him so much annoyance, and so thoroughly disrupted the party that has honored him.

The proposed trip, if it is made, can hardly be dignified with the title of harmony, for that does not appear to be the object. If he can bring the masses to his way of thinking on all the visionary schemes that has originated in his fertile brain, results would be most harmonious, but as that is the only ground that he has shown any disposition to occupy, the chances are that but very little will be accomplished in this direction.

The trip if made, may be dignified with the title of self-defense. The ground has been slipping out from under him so rapidly, that he doubtless realizes the importance of a radical movement. He perhaps imagines that his magic presence in the gateway will stop the stampede, and turn back the tide that is drifting away from the landmarks that seemed so captivating.

The governor possesses a strong personality and a genial presence. Should he make a tour of the state he may be assured of a hearty welcome and most courteous treatment, but he must not be disappointed if he fails to inspire the people with his theories or impress them to any great extent with the doctrines of his reform faith.

The intelligent people of the state, and their name is legion, do their own thinking. The day for making votes or lasting impressions by campaign oratory and brass bands, is largely a thing of the past. The record of last winter is written, and is not so remote as to be regarded as ancient history.

The proposed tour will doubtless be a pleasant pastime for the governor and the people of the state will be pleased to shake hands with him, and welcome him, but there is only one way for Governor La Follette to regain the confidence of the people, and win their support, and that is for him to acknowledge that he has made some errors in judgment, that he has been unreasonable in dealing with men who differed with him, and that he would do so any more.

If he will do this and put himself in line with republican sentiment throughout the state, he will be a promoter of harmony and a peace-maker of the genuine sort. A tour of the state will be unnecessary, and he will have time to devote to the business of the state.

These suggestions are as free as air, and undoubtedly as harmless. They are simply the expressions of a conservative party journal that voices the sentiments of a large constituency throughout the state.

Chas. T. Yerkes, the enterprising American who is revolutionizing the street railway system of London, has discovered that English legislation, like the London fog, is heavy, and slow to move. The underground system, that Mr. Yerkes is promoting, is so much of an innovation, that there is more or less skepticism concerning it, and the city authorities, as well as the government, will take ample time to investigate. Mr. Yerkes has discovered that London is not Chicago.

Chicago is equal to almost anything from a school lad to a Dowle Zion. An enterprising doctor, whose shingle hangs out in the windy city, has just discovered that every article of man's attire is a breeder of disease, after going through the list from underwear to overcoats. Some one enquired what a man could wear and preserve his health and he said he didn't know of anything but collar buttons. Thought and collar buttons may be all right for Chicago, but they are a little breezy for Wisconsin climate.

The ship subsidy question may settle itself, without the aid of congress. During the past month, American capital has invested freely in stocks of Hamburg-American, and North German Lloyd lines, with the evident view of gaining control of the two great ocean transportation companies. The foreign management is much disturbed over the outlook. American enterprise is equal to a merchant marine if there's anything in it.

The strike among the coal miners in France may be settled by American competition. A cargo of 3,000 tons of anthracite coal has just been delivered at Rouen on the Seine. The shipment made from Philadelphia as an experiment, may revolutionize the coal industry of France. The ocean freight was less than $1.00 per ton and the cargo was delivered in seventeen days.

While America is enjoying universal prosperity and labor is fully occupied at good wages, Germany is struggling with the problem of soup houses and help for the unemployed. There are 35,000 idle men in Berlin, many of them skilled artisans. American competition has had much to do with manufacturing conditions in Germany, and an effort will be made to check it by prohibitory tariff.

Dr. Senn in describing customs in Japan, says that when a woman marries, that she dies her teeth black, so that she will be recognized as a married woman. From what he says of the men it is safe to infer that they use no subterfuges to indicate the married relation, as they have as many wives as fancy suggests.

NEWSPAPERS

The saying that a city is known by its newspapers is an old one, and to the newspaperman it is a true one. If the newspaper is well-filled with advertisements it is conceded that the city wherein it is printed, is made up of enterprising merchants and that business is good. If a paper is well filled with local and general news, it is an indication that the newspaper is enterprising and appreciates the patronage it receives from the merchants. If its editorial columns are honest and fearless in expression—from a political and general standpoint—it has influence and commands respect. In no state in the union are there as many up to date newspapers as in the state of Wisconsin. It is not the province of The Reporter to call attention to the papers in Fond du Lac, but to compliment the citizens of such cities as Milwaukee, La Crosse, Madison, Oshkosh, Racine, Janesville, Appleton, Green Bay and Marinette, to say nothing of the lesser cities, on the excellence of their papers.—Fond du Lac Reporter.

PRESS COMMENT

Evening Wisconsin: It may be owing to the wide stretch of thirteenth water flowing between them that the governor of Indiana refuses to again address the governor of Kentucky.

Milwaukee Journal: The fact that Gov. La Follette can "put up big talk," as an Indian would say, does not necessarily make him right on any important question.

Albany Vindicator: Tammany has been smitten hip and thigh and cast into outer darkness. Yet it was not even charged with any meanness comparable to that of the navy department in regard to Schley.

Hudson Star and Times: General Henry Fink pronounces Bob La Follette the Andy Johnson of Wisconsin politics. It is certain that "my policy" is the only thing in evidence while he "swings around the circle."

La Crosse Republican and Leader: While the slaughter of the innocent goes on up north, hunters should remember that it is illegal to kill more than two.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: The latest bulletin from Madison has located Col. Jerre Murphy at Marinette. The colonel, however, has not yet been heard from.

Oshkosh Northwestern: It is recorded that near Menominee a hunter shot a deer and the bullet after passing through the animal's body, struck a tree and glanced so that it hit another hunter, perforating his wrist, and then glancing against his gun-barrel, it entered his mouth, passed through his cheek, and finally lodged in the muscles of his neck. If one tenth of the bullets which are aimed at deer have a similar tendency to chase after human targets it is no wonder there are so many accidental shootings in the woods.

Fond du Lac Reporter: The Janesville Gazette propounds a problem on tariffs which should be of interest to the Republican state central committee—possibly to Governor La Follette and his ardent supporters. It is: "If the tariff on a car of coal is $20 for 100 miles, what is the tariff on a passenger train for 1,000 miles? It all depends on the cargo and the emergency." By this it will be noticed that everything except cows and candidates pay full tariff rates.

Marinette Eagle: The governor expects to take a trip around the state to look after his fences next spring. He will find all traces of his pickets have disappeared in many places.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR

If there were more women in the world it would be a great deal better unless there were more men, too.

Till they're married women are fond of dancing; then they are fond of making their husbands dance.

One of the disturbing things about getting married two or three times is the heavy mother-in-law score it runs up.

A woman can get just as mad as a man, but no one will ever believe it, because she doesn't know how to swear like him.

If a man happens to have a good point, it's a thousand to one that on that particular one the law of heredity won't work with his children.—New York Press.

PHILOSOPHY OF THE STREET

The man who can do as he pleases is very apt to elect to do nothing.

There are men who cannot tell the difference between obstinacy and principle.

Most of the really great moves in life are brought around in an underhand manner.

People who are too positive are generally looked on as either ignoramus or bluffers.

Real hard workers have no time to seek applause, and consequently seldom get any thrust upon them.—Milwaukee Journal.

Sample Coats

The first of the New York sample lines is here and will be on sale this week, —three trunks full of garments—and all the late novelties in the line. As usual with us the prices on these coats are about a third less than the regular selling prices, and an added attraction is the fact that no two are alike. If you have looked through the stocks in town and have not been suited, come in and see this line and we believe you will be able to make a selection as well as a saving.

We also have in stock today a very complete line Oxford Raglans, the garment now so much in favor. Prices on these range from 10 to 20 dollars and between these figures we have excellent values.

RATHER LESS ALFRED

"What do you think," said the interviewer to the small boy, "on the subject of King Alfred and the coming celebration?"

"So you're another of them," said the small boy bitterly. "What I want is rather less Alfred. I've had him rubbed into me in school and never complained. I suppose it's the kind of thing they're paid to do. We had him in the sermon on Sunday; I've bumped up against him in every blessed paper that I've opened in the reading room; I've a letter from the only girl I really care about seriously, and she asked me if I didn't want to be truly great, like King Alfred. No more Alfred for me, thanks. I've had all I can eat. I don't want to be noisy, but if I get much more of this Alfreding, as sure as my name's James Robinson there'll be a row."

"Then you disapprove of the millenary celebration and the unveiling of the statue?"

"I disapprove of all millenary exhibitions. As for the statue, that seems to me a bit serious. I've marked down the name of the man who did it, and it's Thornycroft. I should like to put a few plain questions to that Mr. Thornycroft. I think he'd look silly. 'Did you ever see this King Alfred?' I should say to him. 'Did you ever see his photograph?' Did you ever so much as see a drawing of him from life? He'd have to say that he hadn't. He couldn't get away from it. 'Then, I should say, how do you know that statue's any more like King Alfred than it is like my aunt?' Why, if that sort of thing's allowed, it may lead to anything. He might do a thing out of his own head, and then call it me—that is, James Robinson! And I warn him that if he does, he'll have my father's solicitor to deal with."

"Have you anything else against Mr. Thornycroft?"

"Yes, I have. He wouldn't get off yet. There's another point, I should say. I see from the newspapers that you've made the figure of King Alfred eighteen feet high. Is that true? I want a plain yes or no. Knowing that I'd seen it in the papers, he'd probably confess. 'Very well, then,' I should go on. 'Was King Alfred a man or wasn't he?' He'd have to own that King Alfred was a man; he wouldn't like it, because he'd see what was coming, but he'd have to do it. 'Now then,' I should go on, 'did you ever see a man eighteen feet high? I don't want to be hard on you. I'll throw in Barnum's show. Did you ever see one there? You can measure from the bottom of the heels to the top of the hat of the biggest giant known, and then you wouldn't get it or anything near it.' He'd have no excuse to make. There is no excuse for exaggeration except that you did it in a moment and didn't think. You can't do a statue in a moment, and you oughtn't to do it without thinking, not if you mean to give value for your money. I think things look pretty bad for Mr. Thornycroft, and I wonder the papers haven't taken it up. I suppose, because he's a great sculptor, they're afraid to speak their mind. But I'm not."

"Are you going to do anything about it?" inquired the interviewer.

"No. What do I care about King Alfred? When I was younger, I was stuffed up with a long story about his having burned some cakes. Fool of a thing to do with cakes, if they were any good, I think. It was one of the usual history stories—one of the things that show what a little boy can do, I suppose. Now I'm told that that story is probably a lie, and I read it in a book written by a parson. (Oh, there are a lot of things want showing up!) I've got no time to learn things that get struck out afterward."

"Has it never occurred to you how much we all of us, including you, owe to our great King Alfred?"

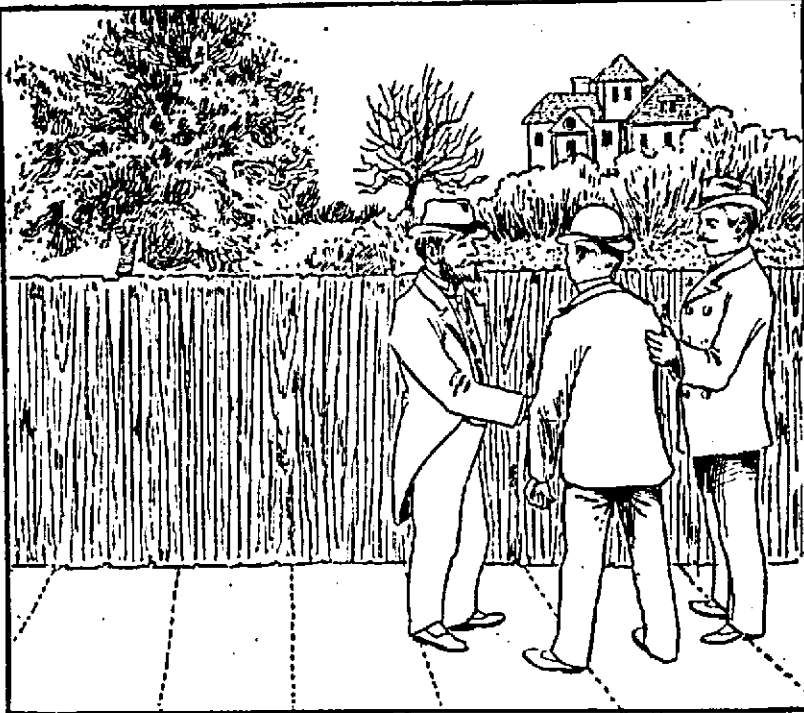

"I've had that before, and it won't do. Suppose a butcher throws down a cartload of mutton chops which you've never ordered at your door. Do you owe him for them? Of course you don't. I never asked King Alfred to do anything for me. I never ordered anything. All that he did he did on his own responsibility, and he must take the consequences and pocket the loss, if there is any. I was told when we were doing history the other day that if there had been no Alfred I should never have existed. Well, sometimes I wish I never had. Why should I be thankful for his interference?"

"But can't you—er—"

"I can't stop here discussing it. I've as good as promised to act as umpire in a fight between two boys—friends of mine. And if I'm not there dead on time they'll chuck it up and go away and there won't be any fight. I could see they were both looking out for an excuse for backing out of it."—Black and White.

To Rule a Husband.

To rule your husband, my dear lady, do exactly as you please, but always pretend that you do as he pleases. That is where your ability comes in. Men are ruled, as children are, by the prospect of a reward. The reward of your husband is your amiability, your sweetness, your devotion, and your beauty, of which you should take a constant care. Love has to be fed constantly. Always let him suppose that it is for him that you wish to remain beautiful. The woman who believes that she is asserting her independence every time she puts on a hat particularly displeasing to her husband is as clever and as intelligent as the Irishman who buys a return ticket at a railroad office and on entering the car remarks to the passengers: "I have played a good joke on the company; I have bought a return ticket—but I don't mean to come back."—Max O'Rell in "Her Royal Highness, Woman."

LIVE STOCK MEN MEET IN CHICAGO

National Association Representing the Entire Industry of the Nation

Will Gather on Dec. 3.
During the past fifty years there have been many conventions held in the United States representing vast accumulations of wealth and progress. But the first great congress of the twentieth century, the Fifth annual convention of the National Live Stock association, representing the entire industry of the nation, which will assemble in Studebaker's theater, Chicago, Ill., on December 3, will represent as much enterprise and more money than any gathering of men ever assembled on the globe.

In 1850 the total value of the live stock of every state in the union was less than $1,200,000,000; today it is $34,555,827,375, a sum incomprehensible to the mind of man. In the year named there were but 17,000,000 cattle, 21,173,220 sheep, 4,896,050 horses and mules; today the figures are 60,602,414 cattle, 115,623,551 horses and mules, and 50,203,000 sheep. Then the grade of this stock, except in some sections of the extreme east, was of the scrub order, which grew and run wild upon the pastures. Today no finer blood nor more improved methods can be found than in the United States.

The magnitude of this industry can only be comprehended by comparison. All stock yard companies, packing houses, commission exchanges and a large per cent. of the freight income of all transportation companies are merely incidents to, and dependent for success upon the efforts of the live stock growers and feeders which term embraces every farmer in the Union. Live stock and cereals are the same as cash in hand. Were the former converted into cash it would take every dollar in circulation in the United States and then the commission man would have to borrow $2,225,000,000 from foreign banks to liquidate the bill.

The cereal crop of the country is valued at $2,025,116,545, yet the live stock is worth more than all the cereals, metals, cotton, lumber, sugar and tobacco combined. The live stock men could buy the stock of every national and private bank in the United States and England and then have millions of money left for speculation. They could own all the stock yards and packing houses in the country and then have a surplus of a billion dollars. They could establish a stockyard company as large as the Union Stock Yards and Transit company of Chicago in thirty-three cities, with a capital of $30,000,000 each and one in every city in the Union as large as Helena, Montana, each with a capital of $14,220,000.

They could build three trans-continental railway lines from the Atlantic to the Pacific and then have left $750,000,000 for a reserve fund. They could own every steel works and smelter in America and Europe and have a billion dollars left to purchase ore with. They could control every oceanic transportation company in the world and have left a sufficient sum to run them for ten years without taking in a single dollar.

There are 8,000,000 of these noble men in the United States. If they were to become so united upon political matters, as to vote as a unit, they could elect every officer in the nation from the president to the most humble backwoods road overseer. There is absolutely no limit to the possibilities of these men if they should collectively divert their force and influence in any direction.

STRANGE WOMAN HAUNTS TRACKS

Hangs Around the Railway Yards—
From Chicago, and Says She is Looking for a Man.

A strange woman created some wonder among the railroad men about the Five Points this morning by hanging around the tracks in that neighborhood and walking around through the switch tracks, where she was in danger of being hit by a car or an engine any minute. The railroad men tried to get her to leave but she persisted in hanging around. Officer Brown went up to the Five Points and found her still walking around. She said she came from Chicago on Sunday night in search of a man and expected to find him around the freight yards. She would not give her name and said she could take care of herself. She finally left the tracks and walked up into the First ward.

Cash System Adopted
Owing to the increased prices of all supplies, the increasing number of accounts, the difficulty of collecting the same, and the time and attention it requires to collect, we, the undersigned laundries, have agreed to do only a cash business. After Dec. 1st, 1901, no bundle will be delivered unless paid for on or before the delivery of the same. Bundles not so paid for will be returned to the office. We feel positive that our patrons will find this more satisfactory to them as well as to us, and trust that you will aid us in working for our mutual benefit. Five per cent. discount will be allowed on coupon tickets from $1.00 to $2.00, payable in advance. By this method you can always keep posted as to the extent of your laundry work and prevent all misunderstandings with your laundryman.

About one hundred enjoyed the supper and took part in the card games. Mrs. George Devins and John Hemming won the first prize and Mrs. Bahaan and Harry Doran, the consolation.

Agents of the Milwaukee and Lake Geneva railroad company have started in to buy the right of way for their line. They have already had a man at East Troy securing options on property. He is trying to secure a strip of land one hundred feet wide and the people are trying to discover whether it will be an electric or steam line.

THEIR CONDITION IS VERY CRITICAL

Dr. Cole of Rockton, Thinks the Hamiltons Will Both Die—Bullets Not Extracted.

Beloit, Wis., Nov. 19.—Dr. Cole of Rockton made the following statement last night of the condition of the Hamiltons who figured in the shooting Friday.

"Hamilton and his wife are both in a critical condition and there seems to be very little hope for the recovery of either, although the woman may live. Hamilton seemed to brighten up considerably this morning and it looked as if he might pull through, but all the afternoon he has steadily grown worse and his chances for life seem very slight. In his case both bullets passed through the left lung, one entering two and one-half inches above the nipple and the other one and one-half inches above the nipple and toward the medium line.

"Mrs. Hamilton has steadily grown worse since the shooting. She sleeps most of the time and that is a bad symptom considering the nature of her wounds. One bullet struck her in the middle of the forehead, following the skull to the right eyebrow, passing out and imbedding itself in the right biceps as she threw up her arm to shield herself. The other ball entered the temple at a point even with a line drawn from the top of the ear and corner of the eye and two inches from the eye, passing downward, inward and forward and is supposed to be lodged in the right jaw. This bullet was probed for to the extent of two and three-eighths inches. None of the bullets in either case have been extracted."

A Perfect Balance

Idea of mind and body was the Roman idea of perfect health. They defined this balance as "a sound mind in a sound body." A weak or sickly body tends to drag down the mind to its own level. Keep the body in health and the mind will take care of itself. The health of the body depends mainly on two things: A sound stomach and pure blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery preserves the balance of health, because it makes the stomach strong and the blood pure. People who had not had a well day in years, nervous of body, depressed of mind, have been perfectly cured by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery."

"During the summer and fall of 1896 I became ill run down," writes Charles H. Sergeant, Esq., of Plain City, Madison Co., Ohio, "nerves were out of order and stomach was out of order. I wrote to Doctor Pierce for advice. He said I had general debility, and advised Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I used six bottles and since I stopped taking it, about one year ago, I have not taken any medicine of any kind and have been able to work every day. My appetite is good. I do not feel that burning in the stomach after eating, and my blood and nerves are in good shape."

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

"For Love's Sake" was given at the Myers Grand last evening to a very small audience. Perhaps it did not deserve any more, at any rate such an attendance must have a very depressing effect upon the actors. Ethel and Mable Strickland carried their parts with merit. The singing of the former in the third act was a pleasing part of the evening's program and the singing of "Die Wacht am Rhein" by the whole company received hearty applause.

"The holy passion of friendship is of so sweet and steady and loyal and enduring a nature, that it will last through a whole life time—if not asked to lend money." Is a trite saying from the calendar of "Pudd'nhead Wilson," the creation of Mark Twain dean of all American humorists. When he built that work, for it was built, and on good foundation, the architect of the drama saw a possibility to further enhance the beauty of it all, and well did he do the task he set about. This play presented by a stronger organization than has ever before been seen in it, and stages as only the experts in the art of stage craft know how to stage a large production will be seen at the Myers Grand on Thursday, November 21.

The announcement of the coming of William H. West's Big Minstrel Jambilee doubtless brings to the mind of half the city's theater goers a score of quaint figures with blackened faces who dance to half forgotten tunes all about fond memory's stage. With Mr. West's progressive organization however, the blackened face is relegated to the two extremes of his semicircle of vocalists and comedians, and is but an incident in a performance partaking of at times the best in opera and at others the brightest in vaudeville. It will appear at the Myers Grand on Saturday, November 23.

New York Horse Show Opens.

New York, Nov. 19.—The horse show is here again, and through this week the world of society and fashion will revolve about the tanbark arena in Madison Square. The opening of the great annual exhibition, which has come to be regarded as the first important social event of the New York season, was all that even the most exacting critic could have asked.

Huge Shipment of Gold.

New York, Nov. 19.—A new record for gold shipments to Europe from this port was established, when gold to the amount of $7,632,551 was taken from the assay office for shipment on the steamship Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, which leaves today.

Death of Baseball Magnate.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 19.—James P. Franklin, alderman and baseball magnate, died of heart disease. Alderman Franklin was president of the Buffalo Eastern league baseball team for nearly ten years.

THE NEW TREATY SIGNED

Nicaragua Agreement Is Officially Approved.

SENATE YET TO ACT ON IT.

Not Much Show of Its Ratification in Its Present Form—Senators Believe That There Should Be No Written Document—Other Nations Jealous.

Washington, Nov. 19.—The new Hay-Pauncefote treaty was signed Monday at 12:05 by Secretary Hay for the United States.

The clauses in the treaty are as follows:

1. The canal shall be free and open to the vessels of commerce and of war of all nations, so that there shall be no discrimination against any nation or its citizens or subjects in respect of the conditions or charges of traffic or otherwise.

(The above is objected to by a large number of senators who object to Great Britain's making demands in behalf of other nations.)

2. The canal shall never be blockaded, nor shall any right of war be exercised or any act of hostility be committed within it.

3. Vessels of war of a belligerent shall not revictual or take any stores in the canal except so far as may be strictly necessary; and the transit of such vessels through the canal shall be effected with the least possible delay. In accordance with the regulations in force and with only such intimation as may result from the necessities of the service. Prizes shall be in all respects subject to the same rules as vessels of war of the belligerents.

4. No belligerent shall embark or disembark troops, munitions of war or warlike materials in the canal, except in case of accidental hindrance of the transit, and in such case the transit shall be resumed with all possible dispatch.

5. The provisions of this article shall apply to waters adjacent to the canal within three marine miles of either end. Vessels of war of a belligerent shall not remain in such waters longer than twenty-four hours at any one time except in case of distress, and in such case shall depart as soon as possible; but a vessel of war of one belligerent shall not depart within twenty-four hours from the departure of a vessel of war of the other belligerent.

6. The plant, establishments, buildings and all works necessary to the construction, maintenance and operation of the canal shall be deemed to be part thereof for the purposes of this convention, and in time of war, as in time of peace, shall enjoy complete immunity from attack or injury by belligerents and from acts calculated to impair their usefulness as part of the canal.

It is not believed that the treaty can pass the senate.

HEALTH OFFICERS BLAMED.

Coroner's Verdict in St. Louis in Case of Lockjaw Victim.

St. Louis, Nov. 19.—Coroner Fink-houser has rendered a verdict finding the St. Louis health department negligent in the preparation of diphtheria anti-toxin that caused the deaths by lockjaw of children to whom it was recently administered for diphtheria. The verdict in part is as follows: "We find that the deceased came to their death from tetanus, following administration of diphtheria anti-toxin containing tetanus toxin, said diphtheria anti-toxin having been prepared and issued by the health department of the city of St. Louis and bearing dates on labels of Aug. 21 and Sept. 30, 1901. The presence of tetanus toxin in the diphtheria anti-toxin shows negligence upon the part of the health department in the preparation of said diphtheria anti-toxin and in the issuance thereof."

For some time the city health department had been making anti-toxin for use in diphtheria cases. This was distributed among practicing physicians throughout the city free of charge and used in the city institutions generally. In many cases it is said to have saved lives. The serum was obtained from horses said to have contracted tetanus and to have imparted it to anti-toxin drawn from their bodies.

Charges Against Prison Officials.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Charges that Adam Geyer, a convict at the Joliet penitentiary, was driven insane by the inhuman treatment of prison officials, will be investigated by the state authorities. For nine months, it is said, Geyer was kept in solitary, and in an underground cell.

Fatal Shot in North Dakota.

Fort Yates, N. D., Nov. 19.—Robert Marshall of this place was fatally shot while deer hunting and died within a few hours. Mystery surrounds the affair and the Indian police have been sent to bring in Kid Silk and Father Bede, who are supposed to know the facts.

Rifle Tears Target to Pieces.

Sandy Hook, N. J., Nov. 19.—Two shots were fired from the government's twelve-inch rifle. They finished the target. A twenty-five pound exploding charge, Maximite shell, went half way through the right-hand side of the target, bursting and cracking it. The second shot tore the left-hand side of the target and the backing to pieces, not enough of the target being left for another shot. It contained twenty pounds of explosive "D." The Gathmann gun was not fired.

ALLEGED FORGER EXTRADITED.

William Hoepfner on Way from Buenos Ayres to United States.

New York, Nov. 19.—The Buenos Ayres correspondent of the Herald cables: William Hoepfner, whose extradition was requested by the United States government because of charges of defalcation and forgery against him, has sailed on the British steamship Oropesa for Liverpool, whence he will sail for New York. He is accompanied by a detective.

Lived More Than a Century.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 19.—Mrs. Margaret Stringham, aged 104 years, died of injuries received in an accident Friday. She was born in Kentucky and moved with her son to this state nineteen years ago.

Rob and Burn Postoffice.

Washington, Nov. 19.—A dispatch received here announces that the post-office at Freemansburg, W. Va., was robbed and burned to the ground early yesterday morning. No loss is stated.

Said Wheat to Mexico.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 19.—Many thousand car loads of California wheat are being moved to Mexico to prevent distress from complete crop failures. A car blockade is threatened.

TO PUT DOWN MINERS' WAR.

Kentucky Troops Seek Leaders of Sunday's Battle.

Madisonville, Ky., Nov. 19.—Soldiers are scouring the county in an effort to discover the members of the union party who engaged in the battle at the Providence mine. The report that the lieutenant of a military company led Sunday's attack is without foundation. The restraining order of federal Judge Evans' court is having its effect, and the camp from the immediate neighborhood of Reinecke mine has been broken. About 175 men moved. George Cronch, the negro union miner who was shot yesterday, is said to have given the authorities valuable information bearing on the attack before his death. Warrants have been issued for alleged participants in yesterday's fighting. It is said additional troops will be sent to this county immediately.

MRS. BONINE'S TRIAL BEGINS.

Is Arraigned for Alleged Murder of J. S. Ayres, Jr.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Mrs. Lola Ida Henry Bonine, under indictment for the murder of James Seymour Ayres, Jr., in the Kenmore hotel in this city the night of May 15 last, was put on trial before Judge T. M. Anderson. The case attracted widespread interest on account of the mystery that shrouded the death of the young man and this interest was augmented while the coroner's inquiry was in progress by the dramatic confession of Mrs. Bonine.

her part in the tragedy. She said that she had been the only person in the room when Ayres was shot and that he was killed in a struggle with her over the possession of a revolver with which he was trying to frighten her into compliance with his demands. She has been in jail since then.

CHALLENGES A NILES EDITOR.

Policeman Resents Criticism for Attending to His Duty.

Niles, Mich., Nov. 19.—Jacob Ullery, a police officer, issued a challenge through the columns of a local newspaper calling upon F. W. Cook, editor of the Niles Daily Star, to meet him in mortal combat, the weapons to be 38-caliber revolvers and the distance ten paces. Mayor Baldwin recently inaugurated a crusade against local drunks and Ullery makes the rounds to enforce the law relative to the hour of closing. Cook berated Ullery through the columns of his paper for keeping too close tab on the saloons, and smarting under the criticism Ullery thirsts for blood.

Americanization of World.

London, Nov. 19.—In the forthcoming number of the Review of Reviews William T. Stead will publish an important article on the "Americanization of the World." In it he declares that the Stars and Stripes have displaced the union jack at the masthead of progress, and that the United States and not the United Kingdom will be the nerve center of the civilization of the present century. The effect, he says, will be to place the "unrivaled inventive genius, restless energy and limitless resources of the continent at the disposal of the whole human family."

ROYAL TONIC

Vinol Will Invigorate And Strengthen Quickly.

We Endorse and Guarantee It.

We sell many tonics. We have demands for many so-called strength creators.

We handle all kinds of remedies that claim to be invigorators. We do this because we are druggists, and it is our business to supply the public with that which they want.

When our advice is asked, however, as to a tonic and restorer, strength creator and an appetite producer, we invariably recommend Vinol. We do this because we know all about Vinol. We know all that it contains. We have sold enormous quantities of it, and we have had every opportunity offered us to watch the results that have been accomplished by the use of this wonderful restorer.

If you have not yet had occasion to use such a tonic we would like to have you call on us, and learn why we are so enthusiastic about this scientific remedy.

Vinol contains all the curative principles in a highly concentrated state that are found in cod liver oil. It does not contain, however, any of the obnoxious, digestion destroying grease that always proved to be such a drawback to what otherwise would have been a most valuable remedy. We wish you would remember Vinol, and bear in mind that as a blood enricher and flesh creator and as a wonderful aid to digestion, we know of nothing that will compare with it.

Mrs. M. L. Perkins, Bangor, Maine, says: "I have only taken one bottle of Vinol. I, therefore, am not in a position to know the full extent of its beneficial action, but this one bottle has convinced me that Vinol is a marvelous tonic. While ill this winter with grippe, a friend told me about Vinol, and recommended it so highly that I procured a bottle. It benefited me wonderfully, and I believe that it possesses splendid building up properties. The little I have taken of it has convinced me that in my case it is most excellent."

We endorse Vinol. We guarantee its action. Such is our faith in it that we will gladly refund to anyone who is not satisfied the price they have paid for it.

OUR BOOK REVIEW

Tommy Foster's Adventures

We are indebted to Mr. Ober for much good literature. He has written some two dozen books of various kinds, dealing with travel and adventure mainly, with now and then a dip into history, but we do not think he has given us a better piece of work than "Tommy Foster's Adventures," a book that boys will read with keenest pleasure for a long time to come. It appears opportune, too, for at no previous time has there been so general an interest in the Indian tribes of the Southwest among whom the hero of the story passed several pleasant, yet exciting weeks. The author is a teller of admirable stories for young people; he is thoroughly familiar with the localities he describes—he lived with the Pueblo Indians awhile, just as Tommy did; and what he has to say is even worth listening to by older readers.

Mr. Ober has been a student of Indian life for many years, and he is to be congratulated upon the admirable manner in which he has imparted exact information regarding the little known region he has chosen for the scene of his latest book. The pictures are admirable as well. Boys who have the good fortune to obtain a copy of "Tommy Foster's Adventures" may be sure they have a thoroughly breezy story of out-door life that cannot fail to delight them.—Henry Altamus Co., Philadelphia.

Musical Ministries

Professor Waldo S. Pratt of the Hartford Theological Seminary, recently delivered a series of lectures on Musical Ministries in the church. They were so popular that he was persuaded to publish them in book form and the volume has been put on the market by Fleming H. Revell Co. The book is attractive and will be of especial interest to musical and church-going people.

It sells for one dollar. The publishers say it contains: Popular lectures by an experienced musician and teacher on the history, theory and practice of church music.

Treats of music, religion, hymns and hymn singing, the choir and its music, the organ and the organist and the minister's responsibility. Has full and valuable lists of books about church music and hymnology. Free from technicalities, independent and elevated in point of view, fresh and vigorous in style—just the book for enterprising clergymen, organists, choir singers, music committees, and earnest people generally.

The Little Lady—Her Book

There is a whole year of happiness in "The Little Lady—Her Book." It is all about the Little Lady who lives in the House of Many Windows, and it has in it all the good stories and good times that have made her happy, and that will help to make many other little people happy. It takes the Little Lady from the city to country and back again, and tells all that she did, and said, and how at last she started to school "with another little boy named Willie," and what happened then.

Mr. Payne has written much that has given pleasure to a host of young people, but nothing that has given more pleasure than will "The Little Lady—Her Book." He is a born story-teller, and each creation of his fancy contains an equation of equality clothed in apt and dainty expression. He has the power of making a scene live before you in half a dozen sentences; and scattered through the book are exquisite bits.

The illustrations clearly and beautifully illustrate the author's meaning, and add to our love for the charming "Little Lady" the sympathetic "Big Man" and the "Little Woman," all of whom, if we mistake not, are drawn from life.—Henry Altamus Co., Philadelphia.

Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst, the noted New York divine, has just published an attractive title work entitled, "The Sunny Side of Christianity," taking for a text: "The aim of Christianity is to make human hearts as much like God's heart as possible." With this for his theme, Dr. Parkhurst, in his peculiarly vivid style, with a sweetness and sunniness that is wonderfully attractive, treats of Love in its different relations: "Love in the Heart vs. Phosphorus in the Brain;" "Love as a Theory and an Experience;" "Love as a Lubricant;" "Love as a Means of Knowing." The result of all is "a mind unwarmed and a heart comforted."

The book sparkles with gems of thought peculiar to the brain of Dr. Parkhurst, and his hand has lost none of its cunning in placing these thoughts before the reader. The book will have a ready sale, and will be appreciated by thoughtful people. Fleming Revell Co. are the publishers.

A little book neatly bound and printed, fresh from the presses of Fleming H. Revell company has just been placed on the market. The author is that well known writer and clergyman, Newell Dwight Hillis. He has taken for a topic, "Across the Continent of the Years." The sentiment of the little book is very choice, and has to do with the old yet new story of the Son who came to earth for man's redemption.

The book sells for 25 cents and will prove a pleasant reminder at Christmas time, of the journey across the continent which humanity is taking, all unconscious of its importance.

The beauty thief has come to stay. Unless you drive the pimples and blackheads away: Do this; don't look like a fright; Take Rocky Mountain Tea Tonight Smith's Pharmacy

Constantinople, Nov. 19.—Rt. Hon. Sir Nicholas R. O'Connor, the British ambassador to the porte, is energetically pressing the outstanding British claims. The ambassador's attitude impresses the Yildiz Kiosk and the porte.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

Digests what you Eat

People once thought that the only way to cure indigestion was to stop eating. The trouble with such treatment is, that to stop eating is to stop living. KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE has changed the whole method of treating this complaint. It contains all the natural digestive fluids and digests all you eat without aid from the stomach, so you can eat all the good food you want and be cured of your trouble at the same time.

"I have been troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia for several years and often sat down to eat but had to give it up after eating only two bites. I used two bottles of KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE and am alright to-day. Can now eat anything I want. W. L. Easton, Audubon, Iowa."

It can't help but do you good

Prepared by E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. The $1. bottle contains 2 1/2 times the 50c. size.

When you suffer from biliousness or constipation, use the famous little liver pills known as DeWitt's Little EARLY RISERS. They never gripe.

Our 17c Black Cat Leather Stocking Scheme

seems to work like a piston rod at 60 miles an hour. We have so far sold about a thousand pair, saving the public about $80.00. And the SCHEME goes merrily on. We don't like the word SCHEME, it smacks of SCHEMERS, but there are many in this community who like to chase up SCHEMES. So we are going into another SCHEME, it is simple and you can readily comprehend it.

38 inch wool face EIDERDOWN is worth 50c per yd.

On Monday morning we shall offer 1000 yards at

..35c Per Yard..

In this SCHEME we don't throw you in a chromo nor any other jim crack, nor give you a chance on a white elephant or a Shetland pony. But in cold cash. It does not take a Galileo nor an Archimedes to figure out this problem, it is simply a cash saving SCHEME for the patrons of our store. We have these SCHEMES in every department of our store, and we guarantee nine times out of ten to save you cold cash. Do business with us upon true business principles and you will be cash ahead.

PLENTY OF TURKEY, BUT THEY'RE THIN

Prices on Thanksgiving Birds May Be Reasonable—Weight Will Increase as Holidays Approach.

Indications along the street, as well as the judgment of the butchers and grocery men, who handle large quantities of turkeys, favor a liberal supply of the American bird which will soon be the centerpiece on Thanksgiving dinner tables. Just now the gobblers are coming in a little thin, but it is always so at this season of the year because up to this time the fowls have been forced to hustle for their own feed instead of having it crammed down their necks as it will be later, when the industrious and thrifty farmer is putting his feathered stock in condition for the holiday market. It is a good deal of a guess as to what Thanksgiving prices will be on turkeys, but a consensus of the judgment of the trade places it at about 10 cents wholesale. The retail price, as always, will be governed by the avarice of the man who supplies the family wants. As a general thing it is figured that he ought to be satisfied with about two cents a pound profit. Weather conditions up to this time have been generally favorable for a good-sized turkey crop, and in no section is a shortage reported. Dry, cool weather is considered essential for the satisfactory fattening of the fowl. All over the west there has been an absence of rain, although until lately the weather has not been particularly cool.

The practice of the farmer always has been not to crowd his turkeys in the matter of food until shortly before the beginning of the holiday season. For this reason turkeys which come to the market prior to Thanksgiving are generally poor in condition. Corn, as well as all other feed, is higher than ever before throughout the western country, and the farmer is not putting much of it into turkeys in advance of the Thanksgiving demand for the bird.

In the Circuit Court
In the circuit court yesterday judgments were rendered in the following cases: Bank of Evansville vs. B. D. Riley and John Collins, $42; John Winans and Charles C. Russell vs. John M. Bray, for $216.55; In W. W. Gilman, receiver, vs. Arthur Hurn, judgment of $26.88 for costs was rendered in favor of the defendant; and in W. W. Gilman, receiver, vs. Mary Connell, a judgment of $21.60 was rendered in favor of the defendant for costs.

In Justice Reeder's court in the case of the Rock River Machine company vs. the Berlin Manufacturing Works a judgment for costs amounting to $11.79 was rendered in favor of the defendant.

The case of the state of Wisconsin vs. William Jones of Clinton was nullified by the district attorney. The cases of the state vs. Byrne and the state vs. Hufenberg were set for trial. Otto A. Oestreich was admitted to practice law in the courts of this state.

The motion of the defendant in the case of W. H. Rogers vs. R. J. Muller, that the case be stricken from the calendar was overruled and the plaintiff's complaint accepted. David Griffin vs. the C. M. & St. P. R. R. and John Foley et al vs. the C. M. & St. P. R. R. were settled and the appeal dismissed. W. H. Olmsted vs. Maud M. Jones, et al, was settled. The case of Corwin C. Smith vs. the C. M. & St. P. R. R. for damages for personal injuries was set for trial on December 3. The case of C. E. Sweeney vs. Geo. W. Wentworth was settled and dismissed without costs. The case of the Taylor & Morris company vs. the Berlin Machine works is being tried by a jury. Fethers, Jeffris and Mout are for the plaintiffs and J. C. Rood for the defendants. Cases 27, 28, 29, 32 were added to the day calendar.

The Laurean Society
A very interesting program will be presented by the Laurean society of the High school tomorrow afternoon. The serial story, the first chapter of which was given by Miss Elizabeth McKay at the last meeting, will be finished with a second chapter by Miss Belle MacGregor. Extemporaneous speeches will be made on the following subjects: Physical culture; The Yale Bicentennial; The Colossus Execution; Entertainment of Hooker T. Washington by the President. Misses Isabel MacLean, Alice Harper, Mary Buckmaster and Isabel Menzies will be the speakers for the afternoon. Miss Eureka M. Kimball will close the program by giving a reading.

Hunting Party Returns Home
Nearly all of the meat markets of the city have from one to two deer hanging up outside their front doors today on account of the return home last night of Drs. Pierce, Edden, Powell and Hart and E. D. Morely, Ed. Kemmerer and Charles Tallman from a deer hunting trip in the northern part of the state. They brought home all the law allows and had a fine time killing them. A number of their friends have been remembered with choice cuts and will see how good venison is.

Riot Victim Gets Damages.
Duluth, Minn., Nov. 19.—F. J. Fewings, an employee of the Duluth, Mesabie and Northern road, was given a verdict of $10,383 against the Duluth Street Car company in a suit against the company for $25,000 damages. Three years ago, during the street railway strike, Fewings was a passenger on one of the company's cars. A stone was thrown at the car, crashed through a window and struck Fewings in the head. The case has been tried a number of times, the jury in the third trial a year ago returning a verdict of $1,400. This was appealed.

Dr. William F. Norris Dead.
Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 19.—Dr. William Fisher Norris, the oculist, died at his home of an attack of pneumonia. Dr. Norris was born in this city on January 6, 1839. He graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in 1861. Almost immediately after his graduation he was appointed as assistant surgeon in the union army, and was in charge of the Douglas hospital at Washington during 1864. He was also a prolific author on medical topics.
